However, Two Directors With Shocking Conflicts and Poor Governance Track Records Were Allowed to Remain

We believe the Board failed to address two of its most problematic interconnects – Dr. Beckerle and Mr. Ferrari.

Two Highly Problematic Legacy Directors Not Addressed By Rushed Refreshment Process

Dr. Mary Beckerle	Daniele Ferrari
 Dr. Mary Beckerle Director Since 2011 (Not Independent)	 Daniele Ferrari Director Since 2018
CEO of the Huntsman Cancer Institute ("HCI"), which has received almost $750 million from the Huntsman family	Joined SK Capital as a Senior Director after Huntsman sold its stake in Venator for significantly less than the Company had previously promised shareholders and after SK Capital profited by >$100 million on the transaction
Fired and then reinstated as HCI's CEO only after the Huntsman family threatened to withhold $250 million in donations	History of approving egregious compensation practices
Mr. Huntsman is the CEO of the Huntsman Cancer Foundation ("HCF") whose sole purpose is to fundraise for HCI	Currently serves on the Board of Venator with Mr. Huntsman, where he has overseen a substantial destruction of value
Complicit in the Board's recent shareholder unfriendly behavior	Previously reported directly to Mr. Huntsman during his fourteen year tenure at the Company (1997 – 2011)
Lacks meaningful chemicals experience	Complicit in the Board's recent shareholder unfriendly behavior

We believe the Board has failed to address two of the most troubling legacy directors on the Board.

Further, the Board Selected Individuals We Believe Are Not Equipped to Provide Oversight Given Lack of Experience

We believe the Board requires strong, capable, and independent directors that are willing to hold management accountable, and question whether recently appointed directors will be able to do so.

New Directors Defensively Added in 2022

		Independent Public Board Experience?	Commentary
	José Muñoz	✗	▪ Never served on a public board as an independent director ▪ Previously declined to help efforts to hold management accountable at another company
	David Sewell	✗	▪ Newly appointed CEO of WestRock ▪ Never served on a public board as an independent director
	Curtis Espeland	✓

We question whether the newly appointed directors have sufficient experience to demand accountability.

We Are Also Concerned With Mr. Muñoz's Prior Experience at Nissan, Where He Declined to Help Hold Management Accountable

During his tenure as a senior executive at Nissan, José Muñoz directly reported to Carlos Ghosn, who was charged with financial misconduct in Japan. Mr. Muñoz apparently refused to participate in efforts to help hold Mr. Ghosn accountable.

Key Facts Regarding Mr. Muñoz's Tenure at Nissan

Mr. Muñoz worked at Nissan from 2004 to 2019.

Mr. Muñoz's time at Nissan coincided with Mr. Ghosn's tenure, who was the Chief Executive Officer from 2001 to 2018.

In Mr. Muñoz's last role at Nissan (Chief Performance Officer from 2016 to 2019), Mr. Munoz reported directly to Mr. Ghosn.

In November 2018, Mr. Ghosn was arrested and fired from Nissan after alleged financial misconduct.

Following Mr. Ghosn's arrest, Mr. Muñoz resigned from Nissan in January 2019.

Mr. Muñoz was offered $12.8 million to cooperate with prosecutors to hold Mr. Ghosn accountable. Mr. Muñoz declined.

We question the circumstances surrounding Mr. Muñoz's departure from Nissan.

Ultimately, We Believe the Board's Defensive and Shareholder Unfriendly Actions Are A Significant Governance Failure

We believe the decision to pursue a rushed refreshment process rather than engage constructively on legitimate shareholder concerns demonstrates the Board remains incredibly entrenched and further change is required.

Governance Failures

- Rushed through a refreshment process in response to legitimate shareholder concerns
- Simultaneously replaced all but one committee chair and left another committee chair empty
- Left directors on the Board with shocking conflicts and poor governance track records
- Selected individuals largely lacking public company board experience and possessing murky backgrounds
- Declared Dr. Beckerle independent when she is clearly not truly independent

Despite having added new directors, the Board continues to engage in shareholder-unfriendly behavior.
