It Seems That the Company is Simply Recycling Promises From 2018 Upon Which It Has Already Failed to Deliver

The Company is now committing to achieve its 2021 Investor Day Adjusted EBITDA targets by 2024, with many of these "new" targets simply being recycled from the 2018 Investor Day that were meant to be achieved by 2020.

Overview of 2018 vs. 2021 Investor Day Adjusted EBITDA Targets

Business Segment	2018 Investor Day Target		2021 Investor Day Target
Polyurethanes	~20%	Failed	18% - 20%
Performance Products	High-Teens	Failed	20% - 25%
Advanced Materials	>22%	Failed	20% - 25%
Textile Effects	Mid-Teens	Failed	13% - 15%
Total Company	High-Teens	Failed	18% - 20%

With the exception of Performance Products, Adjusted EBITDA margin targets presented at the 2021 Investor Day are substantially the same as those presented in 2018

Many of the 2021 Investor Day targets are simply recycled from failed 2018 Investor Day commitments.

More Recently, the Company Cites 2021 Record Results As Evidence of Strong Momentum…We Are Skeptical

In its recent proxy filings, the Company is citing 2021's record financial results as evidence that management is executing well and the Company's strategy is finally starting to take hold.

Huntsman Claims 2021's Results Are Evidence of Strong Momentum and Improved Execution

Dear Fellow Huntsman Shareholder:

We are writing to you, our fellow shareholders, because a New York-based activist hedge fund, Starboard Value LP – who just recently bought shares in our company – is attempting to replace four members of your Board of Directors who are integral to the continued execution of our successful strategy and delivering a promising future for Huntsman and you, our shareholders.

That promising future is not some vague hope. The price of our shares closed at an all-time high in response to our latest results as reported on our 2021 earnings call on February 15, 2022. Those results were driven by the strategic transformation of our portfolio, the material deleveraging of our balance sheet and our focus on sustainability and securing a sustainable future.

To give you a clear sense of what is at stake: our 2021 results were the best in our history with our current portfolio. The Company delivered the strongest profit and margin performance we have ever achieved while delivering on our commitment to significantly increase free cash flow. Our results demonstrate that Huntsman is already delivering higher margins, a less cyclical business and a more valuable company that is primed to take advantage of megatrends in the chemical industry. We reported:

- Adjusted EBITDA of $349 million in fourth quarter 2021 up 45% from $240 million in fourth quarter 2020;
- Free cash flow of $698 million in fourth quarter 2021 compared to $88 million in fourth quarter 2020;
- Achievement ahead of schedule of an annualized run rate of $120 million on our $240 million cost optimization and synergy program; and
- Repurchase of more than $200 million shares in the second half of 2021 and a 13% increase to the quarterly dividend.

We have strong reason to believe that the Company is simply the beneficiary of a highly favorable macro environment based on commentary and performance of its Primary Peers

We are highly skeptical that the Company's 2021 performance is the result of strong execution.

DOW

"Our performance in the fourth quarter capped a record year for Dow, which you will see highlighted on Slide 4. In 2021, Team Dow capitalized on the economic recovery, achieving record sales and earnings performance despite pandemic-driven uncertainty and industry-wide weather-related challenges."

James Fitterling, Chairman & CEO – Dow
January 2022

Every Primary Peer also had a record year in 2021. Therefore, we believe Huntsman's performance seems to be the result of favorable macro conditions rather than skillful management execution.

(1) Adjusted EBITDA margins reflect figures as reported in each fiscal year, and is not pro forma for acquisitions and divestitures made in subsequent periods. To the extent Adjusted EBITDA is not a reported metric, we have assumed Adjusted EBITDA equals Adjusted EBIT plus depreciation & amortization. (2) We calculate Adjusted EBITDA to exclude equity in income of unconsolidated affiliates and dividend income from equity investments, and include earnings attributable to non-controlling interests. (3) Excludes $125 million in 2017 and $80 million in 2018 from both revenue and EBITDA related to one-time favorable commodity price spikes as disclosed by the Company.
