Shareholders Are Counting on Greater Oversight and Accountability and Are Excited For Starboard's Involvement

Both the Company's share price performance and Wall Street analyst reactions following Starboard's Schedule 13D filing in September 2021 suggest strong shareholder demand for accountability.

Share Price Performance Since Starboard's Schedule 13D Filing in September 2021[1]

"…the presence of an activist investor suggests that shareholder friendly capital allocation focus could persist…Activist investor Starboard Value reported acquiring an 8.4% stake in Huntsman on September 28, 2021 and shortly thereafter publicly shared slides noting, among other things, "We believe there is a meaningful opportunity for margin improvement." As such, we think operational efficiency potential or portfolio management announcements are likely to remain top of mind over the near-to-medium term."

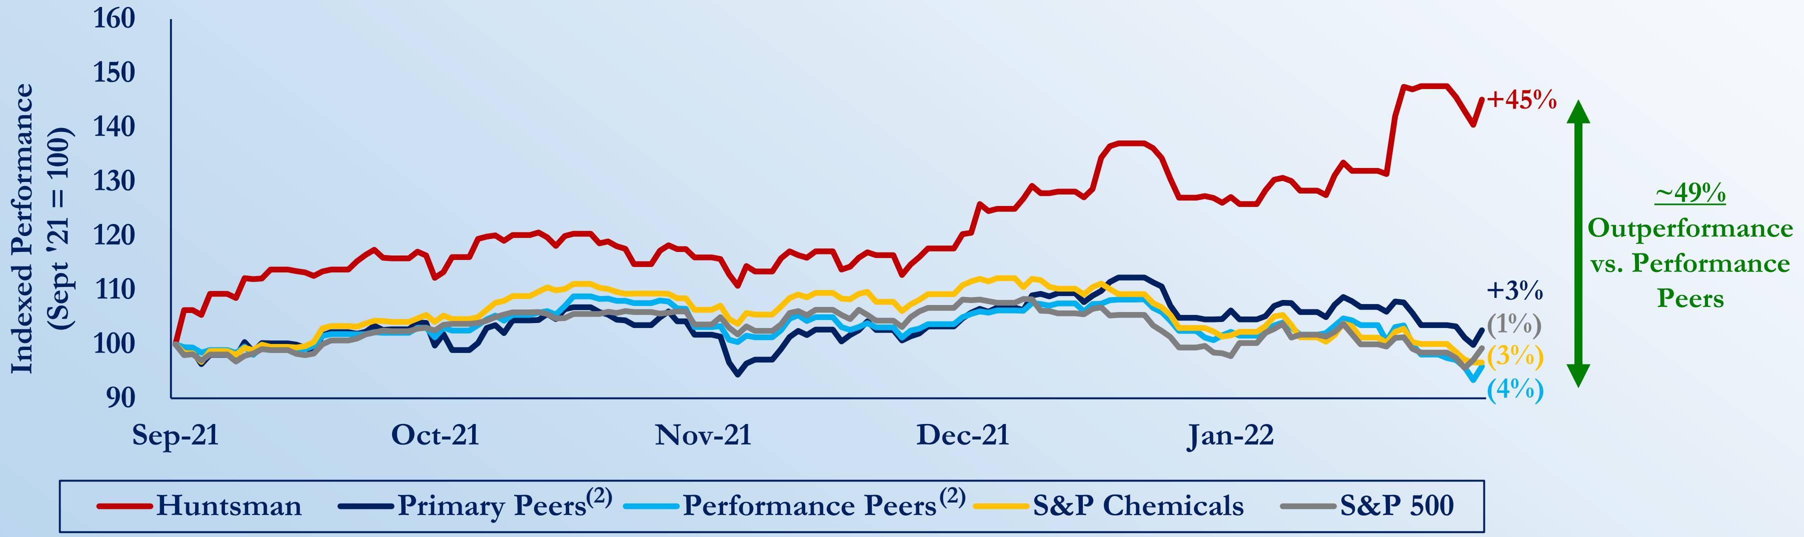
Morgan Stanley
November 2021



We believe shareholders welcome Starboard's involvement, are hopeful that we will bring greater accountability, and are both excited about the quality of Starboard's nominees and the potential for greater Board oversight.

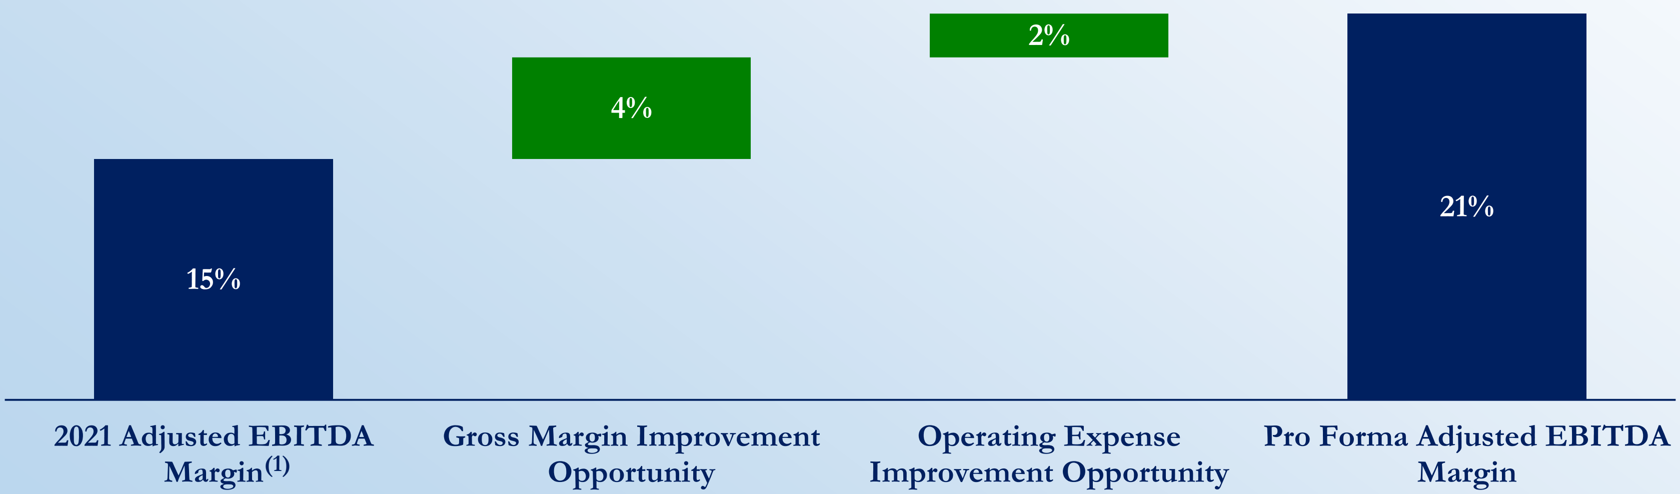
With a Capable and Truly Independent Board Providing Strong Oversight, We Believe Performance Can Be Meaningfully Improved

We believe that Huntsman can improve its Adjusted EBITDA margin by ~600bps on a run-rate basis.

- We believe there are attractive opportunities to improve commercial execution, reallocate corporate resources, and streamline both manufacturing, supply chain, and other operating expenses.

Summary of Operational Improvement Opportunities



We believe significant value can be unlocked from operational improvements.

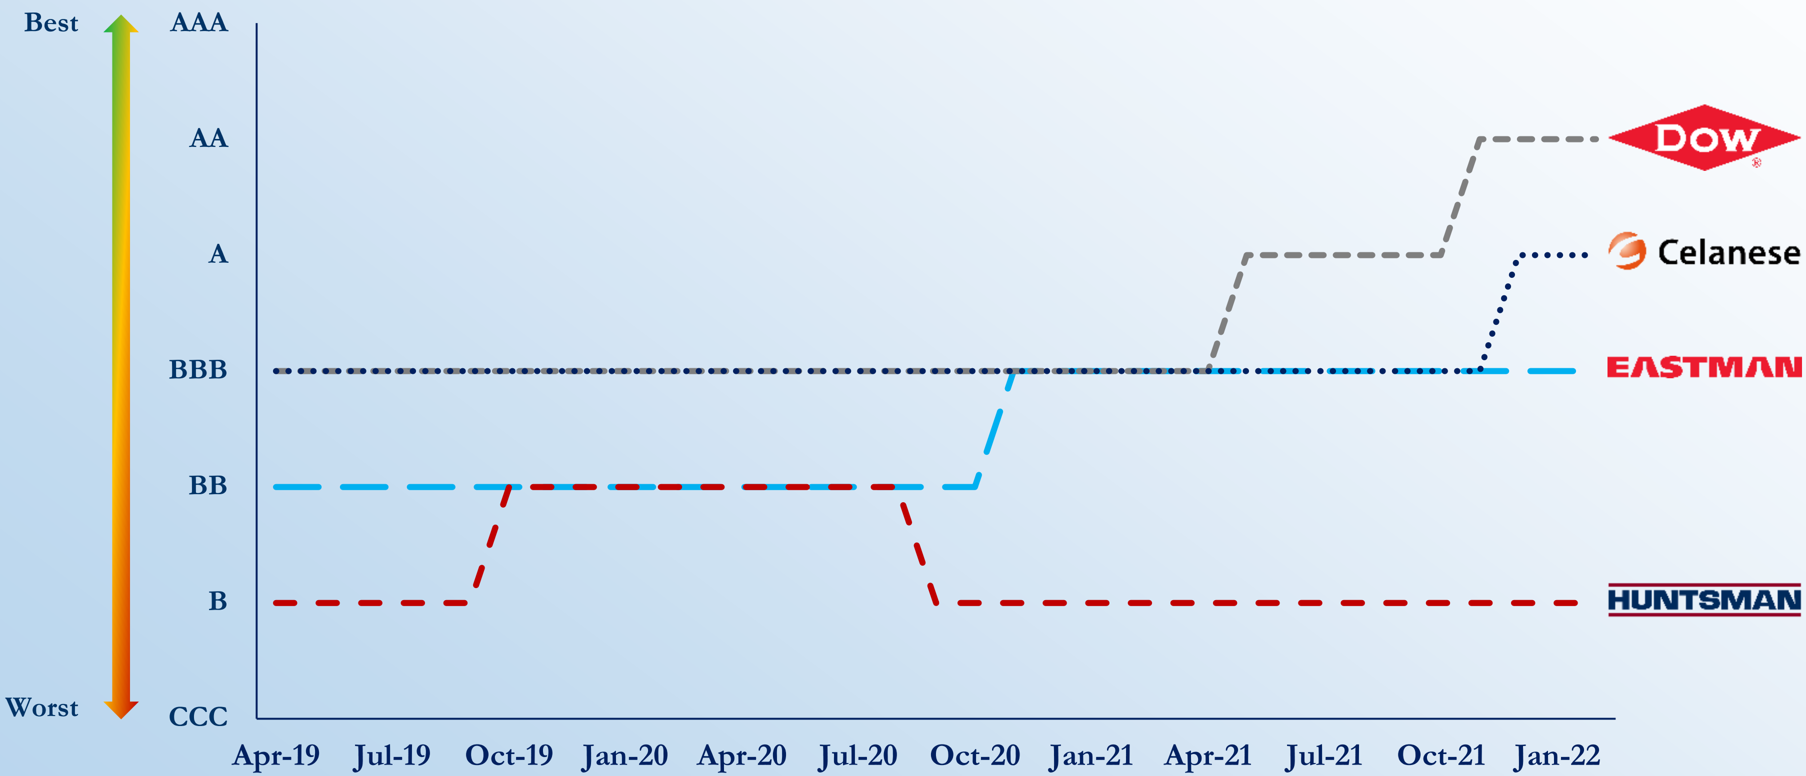
Huntsman Trails Its Primary Peers On ESG Practices

Huntsman not only has the worst ESG rating among Primary Peers, but is also unique in being the only company among its Primary Peers to receive a recent ratings downgrade.

MSCI ESG Rating – Huntsman vs. Primary Peers



Huntsman has the worst ESG rating among Primary Peers and is also the only Company among its Primary Peers to not have made progress towards improving its rating.

We Believe Huntsman's Unresponsive Environmental Reporting Can Be Improved

We are concerned that the company's environmental goals lack rigor and vision, leaving it underprepared for future regulatory and competitive pressure.

Under the failed oversight of the Board's ESG Committee, we believe Huntsman has reactively made a carbon neutral pledge and an unfulfilled promise of TCFD reporting in order to appease institutional investors

Huntsman should provide greater disclosure on environmental goals in-line with its Primary Peers.

Requests From Huntsman's Largest Shareholders for Material Environmental Risk Oversight Have Gone Unaddressed

Many of Huntsman's largest shareholders have, for years, publicly called for TCFD-aligned disclosures, yet under the Board's failed oversight, such information has yet to be disclosed.

In 2020, institutional shareholders strongly advocated for portfolio companies to provide TCFD – aligned reporting

"BlackRock was a founding member of the Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD)…This year, we are asking the companies that we invest in on behalf of our clients to… disclose climate-related risks in line with the TCFD's recommendations, if you have not already done so."

2020 Letter to the CEOs
BlackRock

Ahead of 2020/21 proxy season, Huntsman promised to "evaluate" TCFD-aligned disclosures, seemingly to avoid having shareholders withhold support for its directors

"In 2021, we initiated a review of the Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD) disclosure requirements, and we are evaluating additional disclosures in the future that will align with TCFD."

Huntsman Corporation 2021 Proxy Statement

In 2022, OVER TWO YEARS AFTER shareholders' initial request, the Company still has no TCFD-aligned disclosures

"In 2021, we completed an analysis of the Task Force for Climate-Related Disclosures (TCFD) and will begin to disclose along the TCFD in our next Sustainability Report…We believe moving to a low-carbon economy will make both society and the environment more sustainable. Accordingly, we announced our goal to achieve carbon neutrality by 2050."

Huntsman Corporation 2022 Proxy Statement

The Board has failed to respond to shareholders' repeated requests for significant environmental risk oversight.

We Also Believe Improvement Is Needed in Huntsman's Human Capital Management Reporting

We are deeply concerned that Huntsman, in contrast to its Primary Peers, does not provide investors or employees with a fulsome view into the Company's current workforce composition or practices.
