

Requests From Huntsman's Largest Shareholders for Material Environmental Risk Oversight Have Gone Unaddressed

Many of Huntsman's largest shareholders have, for years, publicly called for TCFD-aligned disclosures, yet under the Board's failed oversight, such information has yet to be disclosed.

In 2020, institutional shareholders strongly advocated for portfolio companies to provide TCFD – aligned reporting

“BlackRock was a founding member of the Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD)...This year, we are asking the companies that we invest in on behalf of our clients to... disclose climate-related risks in line with the TCFD's recommendations, if you have not already done so.”

Ahead of 2020/21 proxy season, Huntsman promised to “evaluate” TCFD-aligned disclosures, seemingly to avoid having shareholders withhold support for its directors

“In 2021, we initiated a review of the Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD) disclosure requirements, and we are evaluating additional disclosures in the future that will align with TCFD.”

Huntsman Corporation 2021 Proxy Statement

In 2022, OVER TWO YEARS AFTER shareholders' initial request, the Company still has no TCFD-aligned disclosures

“In 2021, we completed an analysis of the Task Force for Climate-Related Disclosures (TCFD) and will begin to disclose along the TCFD in our next Sustainability Report....We believe moving to a low-carbon economy will make both society and the environment more sustainable. Accordingly, we announced our goal to achieve carbon neutrality by 2050.”

The Board has failed to respond to shareholders' repeated requests for significant environmental risk oversight.

We Also Believe Improvement Is Needed in Huntsman's Human Capital Management Reporting

We are deeply concerned that Huntsman, in contrast to its Primary Peers, does not provide investors or employees with a fulsome view into the Company's current workforce composition or practices.

Huntsman should provide greater disclosure on human capital management, in line with its Primary Peers.

10. Conclusion

We Have Identified Four Directors Whom We Believe Need to Be Replaced to Achieve Accountability

Huntsman needs strong, capable, and independent directors who will hold management accountable. We believe these incumbent directors are unable or unwilling to do so due to conflicts, poor governance, and/or a lack of experience.

Incumbent Directors Starboard Believes Are Problematic For a Best-in-Class Board

Dr. Mary Beckerle
Director Since 2011
Not Independent

Daniele Ferrari
Director Since 2018

Cynthia Egan
Director Since 2020

José Muñoz
Director Since 2022

Given their actions to date, we believe these four directors are highly unlikely to demand accountability.
